

Information Commissioner's Office

Consultation:

Direct Marketing Code

Start date: 8 January 2020

End date: 4 March 2020

Introduction

The Information Commissioner is producing a direct marketing code of practice, as required by the Data Protection Act 2018. A draft of the code is now out for public consultation.

The draft code of practice aims to provide practical guidance and promote good practice in regard to processing for direct marketing purposes in compliance with data protection and e-privacy rules. The draft code takes a life-cycle approach to direct marketing. It starts with a section looking at the definition of direct marketing to help you decide if the code applies to you, before moving on to cover areas such as planning your marketing, collecting data, delivering your marketing messages and individuals rights.

The public consultation on the draft code will remain open until 4 March 2020. The Information Commissioner welcomes feedback on the specific questions set out below.

Yes

No

If no please outline what additional areas you would like to see covered:

Q4 Does the draft code address the areas of data protection and e-privacy that are having an impact on your organisation's direct marketing practices?

Yes

No

If no please outline what additional areas you would like to see covered:

Q5 Is it easy to find information in the draft code?

Yes

No

If no, please provide your suggestions on how the structure could be improved:

Q6 Do you have any examples of direct marketing in practice, good or bad, that you think it would be useful to include in the code?

Yes

No

If yes, please provide your direct marketing examples:

I'd be grateful for more clarity on the 'soft opt in' around products. The document portrays commercial products and charity communications as being mutually exclusive. However as a charity CEO our experience is that nowadays many people who are not hospice supporters primarily still want access to walks/ runs/ climbs and see the financial contribution to the hospice as the entrance fee to those activities. These people don't mind our aims and objectives but are not driven by them. When we want to let them know a new event is taking place we see this as a commercial transaction rather than as ideological support. I feel confident in these circumstances soft opt in is an appropriate approach. I'd appreciate more info on why it wouldn't be.

Q7 Do you have any other suggestions for the direct marketing code?
